Our mission: "Protecting, promoting and enhancing local native vegetation and supporting people with a passion for plants."

Trees In Newcastle's community nursery opened in 1992 and pioneered local native plant supply in the lower Hunter. When we started the idea seemed "a bit weird and risky." Our work starts with securing seed collection permits. TIN's specialist staff and volunteers visit habitats throughout the region to collect seed from over 100 species. Batch records assure local provenance. We process and store seed with utmost care to ensure viability. Boiling water, smoke water, heat treatments, fermentation and scarification are just some of the cunning methods we use to coax germination. Seeds are sown and nurtured at two sites:

- Community Nursery: 252 Parry Street Newcastle West for retail sales
- Bulk Order Nursery: Callaghan Campus for bulk orders up to 20,000 plants

Pricing Policy

Trees In Newcastle is not-for-profit community organisation. Our prices reflect TIN's mission. Community groups receive plants at below-cost price, made possible through the valued contribution of our volunteers and sponsors. Commercial clients pay a premium to subsidise community plant supply.
